Zoning 50th anniversary reveals love story

Daughter shares Green family story

Amanda Anderson receives original plans from Community Development Director Alex Carlson

Stetson and Carolyn Green

Green home under construction in 1972-73

Miami Township issued its first zoning permit 50 years ago. Staff searched the archives to find the original dated December 20, 1972. What staff really uncovered is a love story dating back decades. The Green family owned the property, located on Green Apple Road, formerly called Gay Road, until tragedy struck in 2020, the year Stetson and Carolyn Green contracted COVID-19, passing away ten days apart after 51 years together.

In memoriam: Harry Flasher

Miami Township extends its deepest condolences to family and friends of the late Harry Flasher.

Harry and his wife, Marjorie, were kind enough to sit with us for a special Meet the Neighbors segment in November 2021. They shared memories of his years in the military and their 55+ years as township residents. A memorial bench sits in the Flashers' honor at the township Veterans Memorial. Harry is survived by his wife, son Eric, daughter Katrina, and their families.
